

Student Demonstrations and Strikes

Any conduct which negatively affects the ongoing education process of the classroom or school shall be considered disruptive. Students demonstrating such conduct shall be suspended at the discretion of the principal or his designee.

If, however, such dissent includes acts which violates the rights of other students to have an education by being either forceful, threatening force or consists of any violation of the law, students responsible may be suspended from school.

Policy Approved: 4/8/85