WALLINGFORD READS!

Students can register for the summer reading program at the Wallingford Public Library and keep track of the books they are reading online or keep a reading log of their own to bring with them on the first day of school.

WHAT YOU CAN DO AT HOME

- MAKE SURE YOUR CHILD HAS ACCESS TO BOOKS AND READING MATERIALS THAT INTEREST THEM
- USE THE LIBRARY
- READ 20-30 MINUTES EVERY DAY
- READ TOGETHER
- TALK ABOUT WHAT YOU'RE READING
- MAKE READING A PART OF YOUR HOME
- CHALLENGE YOURSELF TO READ DIFFERENT TYPES OF BOOKS AND TEXTS
- CHALLENGE YOURSELF TO READ MORE
- SET READING GOALS FOR YOURSELF AT HOME AND AT SCHOOL

WALLINGFORD SUMMER READING

MY GOAL FOR SUMMER READING IS:

Reading research indicates that many children's reading ability declines between the end of one school year and the beginning of the next because they generally do not read much over the summer. But this doesn't have to be the case! By reading a little bit each day over summer break, students can keep up the good work they've strived to achieve all year.

In the fall, classroom teachers will conduct book sharing and "book talk" opportunities that allow students to discuss their books with their teachers and peers.

TIP: Websites such as Goodreads.com and Amazon.com can help students select additional titles they might be interested in reading based on books they have already read and enjoyed!

Summer reading is a key component to the continued academic success for all students. Reading supports vocabulary growth, comprehension and problem solving, and the development of effective communication skills.

THE MOST IMPORTANT THING IS FOR STUDENTS TO READ WHAT THEY ENJOY MOST!
